"As a member of a U.S. family living overseas, each of you are especially fortunate to have the advantage of combining your formal education with an enviable international experience. It is my sincere hope that you have taken advantage of these benefits and that you have broadened your horizons for a fuller life."

JOHN F. FRANKLIN, Major General
U.S. Commander, Berlin

To the Class of 1967 with my best personal wishes for a future which will include a furtherance of your education and a realization of goals and ambitions. You have been fortunate in having lived and gone to school here in Berlin where you can discover the true meaning of democracy. There is much to be done in today's world and I am sure that you all will make a worthy contribution.

That famous scientist and philosopher, Galileo, once remarked that "You cannot teach a man anything; you can only help him to find it within himself." Galileo lived a long time ago but other people in more recent times have affirmed the verity of this statement.

This concept is one of the basic principles that has guided our school this year. You have been exposed to knowledge, aesthetics, and ethical concepts while being afforded an opportunity to develop a sound body. In a real sense, your community, your parents, your faculty have given you the best of the past so that you might better prepare yourself for the future.

How well have you responded? Each must answer that for himself. Collectively, you have been a serious, responsible group. The Class of 1967 has provided outstanding examples of leadership that all can emulate. Other classes have demonstrated good citizenship, and I could not help but note during the year the many younger students who are preparing themselves to assume more responsibility as they move up the educational staircase. How well have you responded? I'd like to think that what is true of the group is also true for most individuals.

As the Class of 1967 moves into the realm of higher education, I urge you to remember the words of Galileo. Your experiences in the years to come will demonstrate even more vividly the wisdom of them. To all others, I charge you to pattern yourselves after our departing Seniors. Berlin American High School is a better place because of them, as it must be in the future because of you.

THIS IS WHERE IT ALL BEGAN—The original school for American children in Berlin was the Gertrauden Schule, located on Im Gehege, Dahlem. This converted German girls' school housed American school children from 1946 to 1953. The name was changed to honor Lt. Col. Thomas A. Roberts, who was one of the first men to lose his life in the Battle of Berlin.

Dedication

We, the Twentieth Graduating Class of Berlin American High School, dedicate this twentieth anniversary publication of the yearbook to all students and teachers who think and work toward a better understanding of the world in which we live in. We are not only dedicating our past, which is portrayed within these pages will remind us of the education we received from the people who dedicated their lives to teaching us and how it helped prepare us for the adult world of responsibility in which we now enter.

Introduction

The year 1967 is one of anniversaries. It is the year for USAREUR's twentieth anniversary. It is also the year for Berlin's twentieth yearbook.

The post-war years of 1946/47 brought the U.S. Military Schools to Europe.

Teachers and students did not leave their habits and customs at home. So it was with the traditional yearbook—work on it began as soon as the schools opened.

For the first two years we had individual yearbooks, later a combined effort by all, produced "Erinnerungen 1949." Each participating school was allowed one section of the book. Emblems of the German cities, in which the schools were situated, ornamented the cover and surrounded the title.

In 1960/61 for the second time, the schools in Germany were allowed to publish their own books. Because of the political situation, in Berlin, our school was allowed to keep, and continue using the title "Erinnerungen."

The Berlin Senate granted BHS the permission to use the official emblem of the Berlin Bear.

On entering a new school building we were preparing our first own yearbook.

1967 is the second year in this building. It is also the year for the seventh edition of our individual yearbook. It is therefore understandable that Berlin High will always hold our atmosphere and our moods.

I hope that the pages of this book will bring back the many happy memories, remind you of your friends and help you think happily of your year at Berlin High—"Erinnerungen 1967"

In a moving moment, 8 September 1953 "Old Glory" was raised over the Thomas A. Roberts School. Its broad stripes and bright stars have given proof through the years of America's will to keep the light of freedom shining in Berlin amid the surrounding gloom.

In 1953 in Berlin, teachers, students and school equipment were moved from the former German girls school to the new school building on Huettengeweg, the site of the present Thomas A. Roberts School.

Brigadier General Charles F. Craig, Commanding General, Berlin Command, cut the ribbon September 9, 1953 for the opening of the new school in the presence of the school principal Miss Velma J. Reilly.

Class of '67

As a group of approximately one hundred students the Senior Class of '67 started out its high school career. The Freshmen year can be said to be a year of gaining foothold in the society of learning. By the Sophomore year the students were settled and ready to do something. Antic Spring was presented by the class in a Drama Festival along with the two upper classes. This year was also the birth of the famous traditional Levi-Day Dance. The class contributed greatly to the first issue of BEAR FACTS, the school newspaper. In the Junior year the class almost monopolized Bear Facts. This year was tapped by two very significant events, the production of the Broadway play "The Man who came to Dinner" with Steve Denton, Richard Price, Tom Mize, Donald Drach, Skip Brissette, Duane Roberts, Paul Cavanaugh, Steve Hoover, Sandy Read, Chyneen Mitchell, Laura Newby as participants. The play helped finance the Junior-Senior Prom which was held at the famous Berlin landmark, the Congress Hall.

Although many of our student friends have rotated during these eventful years we still held on to a select group. The Senior class proved its ability with starting off the year with the Kickoff Dance and later on the Christmas formal. In the Student Council the class got five seats, with Donald Drach as President, Cherry Wyman as Secretary, Ginny Ashcraft as Secretary of Athletics, Skip Brissette as Vice President and Sandy Read as Treasurer. The Senior class enthusiastically participated in the Dental Health Week contest by contributing five tapes which were aired by AFN. The Senior Class this year will be the 20th Graduating Class of Berlin American High School and the second in the new building.

Airview of the Thomas A. Roberts School in 1957, showing the new center wing.

Brigadier General George T. Duncan then commanding general, Berlin Command dedicated the center wing addition to the TAR School in December 1957. General Duncan cuts the ribbon at the opening ceremony as Captain John F. Chambers, School Officer, Mr. Michael A. Fay, Principal and guests look on.

Thomas A. Roberts School—This aerial photograph shows the Berlin Elementary-High School complex. The "Y" portion of the building at the back and sides was the first Thomas A. Roberts School with construction completed in 1953. The one story building in the middle of the complex was constructed in 1957 to accomodate 250 more students. The front two story addition with cafeteria and class rooms finished the complex in 1960, adding 14 new classrooms. Twelve years after the first portion of the building was built the enrollment of grammar and high school students swelled ten-fold.

Class of '68

For the junior class of 1967 it was a strenuous, but exciting year. In our sophomore year we accustomed ourselves, extremely well, to the new environments, created by the change of schools. We were well prepared for the difficult tasks a junior class has to face.

Our class officers, Robert Gardner, President; Annette Mason, Vice President; Susan Suddeth, Secretary; and Patricia Frey, Treasurer; predicted a year full of accomplishments. With the help of Sally Williams, Secretary of Social Activities on the Student Council, and the class representatives, they achieved all they had hoped for.

A supporting class and some highly original money making schemes enabled us to throw one of the best Junior-Senior Proms BHS has ever seen—it was held at the Berlin Hilton.

Our slave sale and slave dance, our three one act plays and many other projects brought us more than enough money.

But not only in class activities did we have great influence. Many of our class members participated in the school musical. All but two of the cheerleaders were juniors and many of the year's outstanding sportsmen were also class members. Without our help—the Assistant Editor and the re-write men came from the junior class—the production of the school newspaper would have run only half as smoothly as it did.

Although the class was highly active and productive studies were not forgotten. For example about 30% of our class made the Honor or Merit Roll for the first quarter.

1967 was, most certainly, a highly successful year for the juniors. I'm sure our senior year will be just as much a success if we find the same spirit, keenness, and willingness to work—let's hope so!

Class of '69

1967's Sophomore class has had a tremendous year for producing individualities. There are several students who deserve special recognition for their initiative in social affairs and activity clubs.

Michael Chaney was President of our class—and one of our best players on the basketball court. Michael Stingel carried the burden of the Vice Presidency and he was equally capable on the football field. Carol Mason, as Secretary, was kept very busy. Probably the least acknowledged person was Sherry Hoover with her responsibility as class treasurer.

We had many plans this year and were even thinking as far ahead as 1968's Junior-Senior Prom. It will be up to us to finance it then. With a dance, "Sophomore Sweetheart" and other activities the money in our treasury accumulated.

1967 was not as successful as we had hoped it to be, let's make certain that 1968 will be.

Class of '70

The Class of 1970 got off to a wonderful start this year. We are not only one of the largest classes but one of the most dynamic in the fairly new Berlin American High School.

This year's class officers; President Debbie Bromberg; Vice President, Katie Schwarz (who had to leave us early); Secretary, Mary Causgrove and Treasurer, Jan Meuser. We are well-represented in the Student Council. Our class representatives are; Inja Gross, John Castellot, and Mark Weisner.

The Freshmen class also has a high academic standing, although we are not scholars. We must not forget that quite a number of our classmates are also taking Sophomore subjects!

Among those in high academic standing is Marcia Stumme, who is working for another year of straight A's. Keep up the good work Marcia!

We are also active in the school clubs, The German-American club, Audio-Visual Movie Club, Chess Club, and Co-ed Sports are well supported by freshmen.

Speaking of sports, we supported athletics very well. Our boys participated in football, cross country track, basketball, wrestling, and golf. Of course we must not forget about the girls who also joined many sports activities. Freshmen girls made up seventy-five per cent of the Powder Puff football team. We were also active in after-school basketball or Girls' Athletic Association. The president of G.A.A. Patty Donnelly, was a freshman. Along with sports comes the cheering squad. Five of the six cheerleaders were freshmen; Cindy Latham, Mary Causgrove, Inja Gross, Jan Meuser and Debbie Bromberg.

Among the most notable events of the class are the turkey raffle, car wash, the Freshman Go-Go dance, the skit for Dental Health Week, and the dance in which "THE BOOTS" played for us.

Although John Castellot was the only Freshman on the BEAR FACTS editorial staff, there were some Freshmen on the reporting staff. A few of us worked with our Yearbook, 1967, ERINNERUNGEN.

In closing, we Freshmen give our deepest and special thanks to our two advisors, Herr Longolius and Mr. Rice, both of whom helped make this a successful year for the class of 1970.

1967 produced a highly active Student Council. Following are but a few of its accomplishments.

The annual responsibilities which were accepted by the council led to the anticipated successes. The Thanksgiving meal and the Christmas Party for Berlin orphans found warm response.

Many new ideas were also introduced by the student council. The student directories were probably the most popular of these.

Especially interesting were the Career Assemblies, a series of lectures on vocations, which were given once a month.

Activity followed activity, so that it was not really a surprise when plans for a European Student Council Meeting, in Berlin, were discussed.

These satisfied smiles from our Student Council members, I think, may be duly accepted.

Many difficulties had to be overcome, by the “hard working” Yearbook Staff, for the 20th anniversary of “Erinnerungen”. With all their enthusiasm they only succeeded with the help of Miss Pietsch. Miss Pietsch watches Patricia May finish her third oil painting "The Gypsy Woman"

Music Department

This year's chorus, as does the band, consists of a very large group, in comparison to the size of the school, with satisfactory levels.

The America Haus honored the chorus by inviting it to sing there during the Christmas period. The repertoire varied from excerpts from "Amahl and the Night Visitors", by Gian Carlo Menotti, to Negro Spirituals, such as "Go tell it to the Mountain". The chorus also sang at the Harnack House for the American Women's Club.

The mutual efforts of band and chorus were probably the most successful. At the opening ceremony of German-American Week at the Friedrich Engel Schule they were received very warmly. 1966's Christmas concerts, with our band and chorus, as well as performances by the Erich Kaestner Schule and the Riemeister Schule attracted an audience of more than a thousand, during the three nights the concert was held.

Highlight of the summer was our musical, "Good News", a musical comedy by Lawrence Schwab and B. C. De Sylva. Chorus, Band and Drama Class deserve recognition for their intensive work.

Mr. Hall, with band and chorus had quite a year.

Band

It was Mr. Hall's first year at Berlin American High School. After looking at all his accomplishments, as music teacher with band and chorus, this appears difficult to believe.

The necessity of a band for school spirit and as a source for good relationships is undoubtedly a vital part of school activity.

During a class period each day and as a class activity, the band meets, not only for grading purposes but also to give public performances, as does the concert band which is formed by the pep band and the dance band. Often enough the pep band has proved that it is indispensable. The trip to Bremerhaven to support the football team is one such example.

However the highlights of this year were combined efforts of both band and chorus.

Long before the opening football game preparation for the football season began. Coach Elstran and coach Glauner were presented with quite a problem—only three lettermen were returning to the team, the rest were unknowns and novices.

Finally the day of the season's first game arrived. Not knowing what to expect we watched the team run on the field—but there was no cause for our apprehension. The Cubs won!

Throughout the season, Berlin went from one victory to another. The team played at a steady pace. With a strong, consistent defense, and an agile, quick penetrating offense. It looked as if the Cubs were heading for an undefeated season.

Climax of the season was Berlin's last game with arch rival Bremerhaven. The undefeated Cubs ran into ankle deep mud. A reorganized Bremerhaven team kept the Cubs baffled, their defense caught on to practically all of Berlin's drives and plays. The result was a defeat by two points.

The disappointed, happy Cubs held a proud seasonal record. From 3 lettermen, unknowns, and novices they had been welded into a strong unified team. Their teamwork was the secret to the season's success.

Team and coaches had a right to be proud.

"For the shades about us that hover
When darkness is half withdrawn
And the shirts of the dead night cover
The face of the new live dawn"

Time was slow in passing, but suddenly, work belongs to the past and graduation is the present. That long road to culmination is finally reached. Now, looking back, we discover it is in sorrow that the truth is learned. In the future it will never quite be the same. For it is only possible to return to the place of youth and happiness, the intensity can never be recaptured. Partir c'est mourir un peu.
