letter from the editors

Dear Friends:

Do you know what it takes to have a successful yearbook? A great deal of time, hard work, and cooperation make a yearbook something to look back upon. It has been difficult to organize clubs for pictures and make sure that someone is available to take them, but it was well worth the effort in the end. We, as yearbook staff members, tried to be in all of the right places at the right times to be able to capture life as it really is at BAHS. We hope that you enjoy the efforts that made this yearbook a reality. Memories have been made this year and dreams have begun to come true. We, the yearbook staff, hope to have captured these memories within this book so that they may be treasured for years to come. I would like to thank the yearbook staff for the hard work and dedication that has made this yearbook a unique keepsake for all of us. To the student body and faculty, we also owe you our thanks for the memories that have made this a great year to remember. We hope to have preserved the of this year's school life, and we wish each of you the best of luck for your future.

Sincerely,
Elisabeth Farnsworth
and Jarvis Roach

Yearbook staff members: Jarvis Roach, Scott Dyke, Carston Hoyt, Diane Moore, Tanika Fuller, Donna Johnston, Tzena Egblomasse, Elisabeth Farnsworth, and Erik Simper. Staff members who weren't available for this photo are Joanna Palacios and Takisha Samuel.

As Charles Dickens wrote, "It was the best of times. It was the worst of times." He was referring to the time of the French Revolutionary War. Yet his words easily apply to today's day and age.

The 1990s are going to be exciting years, filled with problems to be solved and achievements to be savored. The ones who will be affected the most by this decade will be the young people of today who will inherit the world with all of its flaws and its advantages.

As such, we decided to ask

Lacey Shiflett
Grade 12
BEST-

"That would have to be the diversity of people."

WORST-

"Racism. Not only is it wrong, but its also stupid."

Nicole Bertot
Grade 11
BEST-

"The best things are...my friends, because when you come down to it, that's all you really have."

WORST-

"Disease, mainly AIDS, death, and having to make decisions. I don't like making important decisions because I'm afraid that I might make the wrong choice."

Shane Clayton

Grade 11

BEST- "The challenges that are yet to come."

WORST- "The challenges that are yet to come."

Nicole Gonzalez

Grade 11

BEST- "The music, it's a whole lot better then it used to be."

WORST- "The economy. I'm worried about getting a job out there after I graduate."

it was the best of times

Terrance Hazlewood

Grade 12

BEST- "More Freedom. I'll be away from my parents, allowed to make my own decisions, going to college, and owning my own place."

WORST- "Bills, rent, and the new responsibilities that comes with the new freedoms."

Nichole Helgerson
Grade 12

BEST-"That I'll have more freedom. Freedom from my parents; freedom to live on my own."

WORST-"Schmoll's class, what else is there? (He's going to fail me if he reads this)"

Anna Smith
Grade 11

BEST-"Partying and travelling. I want to travel all over the world and meet different people and to see the famous, and not so famous sights."

WORST-"Crime and drugs. I worry that I might be the victim of some violent crime. I'm also worried how kids can play with drug needles and such in parks."

Steve Jones
Grade 12

BEST-"I don't know, can you come back later? Well, all right... the best thing will be going to college. It'll be a new experience, something I haven't done, something I want to do. Plus it'll increase my opportunities later in life."

WORST-"Violence and crime and that stuff. When I was eight years old, somebody broke into my house in San Antonio and stole most of my toys. I hate violence."

Tina Dorny
Grade 12

BEST-"That I'll finally get to leave home for more than one week at a time (sheesh, my parents are going to kill me when they read this)."

WORST-"Trying to work for college tuition."

it was the worst of times

Damion Telencio
Grade 11

BEST-"Having fun, parties, sports, and relaxing."

WORST-"Peer pressure, drug abuse, and stress."

We asked ten young adults what they felt were the worst, and best, things about the 1990s.

Those asked seemed to be mostly concerned about drug abuse, violent crime, the economy, and AIDS. As far as the positive aspects go, everyone seemed to have a different opinion about what, exactly, was the best.

The Day In The Life of a Freshman

What does a freshman do with his or her day? We here at the yearbook staff could not for the life of us figure out exactly what a freshman does, so we followed one around for a day. Our victim, rather volunteer, was Chanel Dyke, a randomly selected freshman.

As you can see by the photos, Chanel did a lot of sitting. We have not as of yet concluded if this is a purely Freshman trait, but we are studying it further. In fact, her third period gym class is the only one this yearbook reporter has been in that sat at their desks for the entire period. Other anomalies we noticed were her tendencies to be talkative and forthcoming in a verbal manner. It was as if she and her other Freshman companions always had something to say.

The most disturbing incident of the say was when I boldly peered into her locker, unsuspecting of the horrors it held. They are indescribable, and therefore we will not show you the photos of this catastrophe.

Although confusing, strange, and very different, we found Freshmen to be OK people that will hopefully grow up to be normal like us at the yearbook staff.

Is this an inquisitive look or what? English class was never so interesting.

Ahhhhhh, a refreshing taste of pure Berliner tap water just quenches your throat and lets you learn again.

OK guys, if we set the bomb here, Mitterand will never know what hit him.

Nick, you really need to include some more color in your map.

After a hard morning, it is always necessary to eat and relax.

Mrs. Watts, why do we have to wash these balloons anyways?

Seventh period math, the final and most difficult class to get through.

BRAIN BOWL

Not a challenge for the weak of heart rain Bowl - what you get when twenty-six schools come together for the purpose of intellectual stimulus. Berlin did its best and came out in the top half of all DoDDS Germany schools. These brave students had to answer such difficult questions as: Arrange in order from least to greatest  $6/25$ ,  $1/5$ ,  $11/50$ , and  $8/33$  or What is the highest adult male voice in a chorus?

The team of Eric Simper (captain), Allan Turman, Kelly Nunn, and Tae Wan Kim tried their hardest and pulled through for Berlin American High School. Out of Five games, Berlin won three and lost two. To our volunteered Brain bowlers, hats off for a job well done.

The Team: "Coach", Ms Nita Smith, Captain, Erik Simper, and Kelly Nunn are pictured here. Tae Want Kim and Allan Turman were not available for the photo.

After a gravity experiment went awry, these English students now spend their days reading King Lear on the ceiling.

"Take that, you nasty computer!"

This student showed others what a well masticated meal consists of.

They went that a way.

All Work and No Play
is not the way it's done at BAHS

While the effort wasn't appreciated, these students couldn't keep education out of their lives. Next time try Mad magazine.

Yep, Licorice.

I say Lads, let's take over this place and show them how it ought to be done.

BAHS today, Broadway tomorrow.

BAHS ORGANIZATIONS

Never an idle moment, but thrifty and thoughtful of others...

When the majority of students pack up the bags at the end of the school day the students on these pages are still at work planning activities or working on special projects that benefit everyone at Berlin American High School. They never had the appreciative applause or cheers of bleachers full of spectators.

In fact, they probably had to endure more than their share of complaints.

Homecoming, tutors, dances, Spirit Week, the Yearbook and awards for good grades was all planned and executed by BAHS organizations. The fun times and even the incentive for going to school was due to their work.

MIDDLE SCHOOL

Middle School students participated in their own version of school life at BAHS. They had their own organizations, Middle School Congress and Askub. Students found that they had more to say about how things should go for them. They also participated in all the fun activities with the rest of the school. During homecoming they organized themselves to decorate their hallway. They also had their competitions on the Friday before the homecoming game. BAHS middle school students are destined to contribute something great to their school.

Opposite Day brought out the femininity in many of the male students and allowed the females to pull up their hair and relax. Wake-up Day seemed to be the highlight of spirit in the school. Given the chance to come to school right after crawling out of bed, most of the students were adorned in their favorite pajamas and slippers. What a comfy day!

Lunch-time competitions included cake walks, cheeze puff obstacle courses, mummie wrapping, three legged races, and limbo competitions. The participants in these pictures were: limbo artist, Russell Bauer; three legged racers, Christie King and Ruben Solis; wake-up day dressers, Christie Jones and Mikal Micucci; opposite day participants Damien Telencio, Tim Waller and Carston Hoyt; cheese puff puffer, Sheila Gagnon.

After several weeks of work and a great deal of frustration, store fronts were constructed to portray a city block for the homecoming dance, "An Evening in the Park." The dance was the last event for homecoming week which brought our school the victory in the defeat of Mannheim's football team.

Charles McClain, Charjuana McClain, Cara Grice, Steve Jones, Damien Telencio, Shawna Shifflet and hat checker, Josh Ainley all had a memorable evening at the homecoming dance.

let the games begin

Autumn kicks off the 1992-93 BAHS sports season

This year's football team may have been small of size and short of stature, but they were big of heart. Averaging 160 lb, the Bears, coached by Mr. Ellis, Mr. Cox and Mr. Colon, clawed their way to victory over their larger opponents, proving the predictions of Stars and Stripes sports reporter, Ben Abrams, wrong over and over again.

Hopes were high this year that the Bears would go on to the All Germany Small School Championships. As the Bears closed the regular season, they were second in conference, with playoffs in their immediate future.

The cross country team put out a loyal effort despite their limited number of participants. The draw-down reduced the ranks of Coach Jenkins' runners to three. Despite that, the team usually placed at least two of their runners in the top ten winning positions of all their races.

Golf was also affected by the draw-down as they were without any returning varsity players. That did not stop the team, coached by Mr. Lewandowski, from swinging their way to an almost flawless finish winning not only most of their matches but also bringing recognition to BAHS as the All European Champs.

Coach Wayne's tennis team was likewise shy of returning varsity lettermen. The majority of team was unskilled at the beginning of the year, but by the time of their first match they were ready to go onto the court to defend the honor of BAHS to the best of their ability.

it's a women's world too

The Bear ladies started a new chapter in BAHS history. All though the minority were returning players on the volleyball, tennis and cross country teams, it was good to see new faces. The ladies on the volleyball team did a great job of pulling together under captain junior Christie Jones. Her experience helped to develop a team that will pose a real challenge to their opponents in the future. Honest expectations were part of the women's season. It was a building year for just about every sport. Coach Susan Cox summed up the reality of the fall women's season by expecting nothing more than her team to improve daily.

Middle School Students anth

In the year 2000 every student you see on these pages will be old enough to vote. Some will vote for the first time. The '92 election gave all students at Berlin American High School the chance to see what it will be like in four or more years to use their right to vote. How they will vote in the future will be influenced by what they learn today.

the '92 Vote

ROCK!!

THE

VOTE

Not to be outdone by millions of Americans world-wide, the students at BAHS had their own chance to participate in the democratic process via the 1992 mock Presidential elections.

On day of the mock election, a mock Presidential/ Vice Presidential debate was held. Students played the part of the candidates (Jarvis Roach as Perot, Sean Clark as Stockdale, Mat McQueen as Clinton, Dae Hyon Kim as Gore, Ivettza Sanchez as Bush, and Kevin Neuman as Quayle as well as the moderator, Erik Simper, and the panel of journalists.

The format of the debate was similiar to the real debates held earlier this year. The moderator took questions from the panel of journalists for the candidates to answer.

According to a poll taken by the TAG class a few days before the election, Perot was in the lead by three points. After the last botes were counted, however, Clinton and Gore had made a come from behind victory to win the election.

England Tour '92

Mr. Schmoll's tour of England is an annual adventure for the imagination.

Castles, battlefields, and ancient ruins provided the backdrop for literary and historical information passed on in the form of intrigue, mystery, murders, executions, romance, and even a ghost or two.

The six day itinerary included visits to Canterbury Cathedral, Dover and Warwick Castle; Stonehenge, the Tower of London, and the British Museum of London. Students stayed in quaint and hospitable bed and breakfasts in Canterbury and Stratford upon Avon. Despite the comfortable accommodations, there was very little time for sitting; the evenings were occupied by either a play -Shakespeare's, As You Like It and, in London, the musical, Me and My Gal- or simply enjoying the English culture.

Without a doubt, Mr. Schmoll enlightened the entire group with his energetic and interesting approach to English literature.

The 1992 Soccer Team was an excellent example of a team that showed its opponents Berlin was a team not to be pushed around. They played in weather ranging from a blizzard to sleet to intense heat, and never allowed this to startle them. Each of the player's character and skill, when combined, formed a team that stood out on top. The team ended their season taking second place in the conference, first place in the Small - Schools Tournament, and fourth place in the European Championship.

To the Seniors of 1993

We are the Japanese going to the American school in Germany. In many ways, it is sometimes long for our culture. For example, we miss the "O-hanami" performed in the spring, "O-matsuri" performed in summer, "O-tsukimi" in autumn and "Kamakura" in winter. By coming to a foreign country, we feel our culture more than if we were in Japan.

I miss Polish food and my friends, but most of all I miss my house and garden. My little car will have to wait for me in Poland until I return.

Brakuje mi tu polskiego jedzenia i moich kolegów i koleżanek. Bardzo tęsknię za domem i moim ogródkiem. Moje Auto musi czekać na mnie w Polsce.

In Berlin there is the Wansee, but in Israel there is the sea with real waves. You can go to the beach and talk with babes and flirt with the hunks: you eat jumus and pita and drink gel tan. When the sun sets you invite friends and party. TV is in a language that you don't understand. You take your girlfriend on a beach buggy and ride to the Rox nightclub in Tel Aviv. You can listen to a band and do the slam dance to Eilot. You have all the time to catch waves, babes or just to have fun. You will find normal boys and girls, sure especially when you go to the Mesa restaurant on the beach for young. You go shopping in Dizingof Center, not like the Ku'Damm, its a cooperative. There are lots of things to do and its hard to sit and do nothing. In short, there is nothing like Israel.

Someday we will all graduate and then we'll have to find jobs to earn a living. For many of us, the usual school day does not fit with the reality we all know coming. Many students at BAHS use part of their day to find out for themselves what the real world is like. Brian Polczynski (top left photo) along with several other students in the TV Production class taped a Saturday radio program. Erin Newton (bottom left) worked at the Dental Clinic. Christer Nilssen (near left) learned the close ins and outs of TV Production. Nicole Gonzalez (top right) worked as a Teaching Assistant.

MUSICAL PERFORMANCES

FOR ALL OCCASIONS

It isn't your regular English or Math class, it's even better. Chorus, band, and drama is offered to students here at BAHS during the course of the day.

Chorus and band members have an opportunity to try out for Honors and SOPA, where the selected students (both chorus and band) go and either sing or play with other students from around Germany.

This year there is a Jazz festival for selected band members to play at.

Jarvis Roach and Eric Simpter were the only ones who attended the festival, which lasted five days, and they had a chance to listen and play with a professional player.

A HIT, A VERY PALPABLE HIT! Drama at Berlin American High School

DRAMA

This year Drama has been hard at work performing for the PTSA, being a project for the TV production class, attending and performing at the Thespian Festival, and preparing for both the Drama Fest and the big Spring production.

Ten students, Carissa Morales, James Roberts, Jerry Hardy, Josh Ainley, Robert Frank, Ruben Solis, Sherin Janey, Sonja Spellburg, Susan Tomko and Travis

Stephensen attended the Thespian Festival at JFK. Other students from all over the world attended the Festival. The students for four days acted, took classes and watched other students perform.

Mr. Lewandowski is hoping to put on the play "Greater Tuna", a farce for the Spring Production.

Winter sees continuing excellence from Berlin teams

Leave it to the men's varsity basketball team to bounce the trend. Unlike most other teams this year, this team had a number of returning lettermen, with four returning starters. Coach Baum said that out of his three years of coaching the men's varsity basketball team, this year's team has the best chance to win the championships. The team seems to have earned Coach Baum's praise as the Bears took second place in the Division III South Conference Championships held here in Berlin. Next stop for this team is Hahn for the Division III Regional Championships.

The men's junior varsity basketball team had an excellent year, coming in first for their conference, losing only three games throughout the entire season. They managed to do this with only two basketball players returning from last year. Coach Jenkins stated that the only reason they lost those three games was because he gave equal playing time for everyone on the team.

Men's Varsity Basketball Team:
Front- Rod Harris, cpt Terrance Hazelwood, Melvin Williamson, Steve Jones, Shawn Miller, Tiran Pettus. Back- David Green, Alex Echaverria, Chris Maroney, Jovan Jones, Shane Clayton, Coach Dale Baum.

Men's Junior Varsity Basketball Team:

Front- Brian Brathwaite, Mike Moneypenney, Jason Hayes, Benny Seawright, Derek Wilson, Ruben Solis
Back- JC Cook, Deshonnie Mazique, Jason Simmons, Larry Bass, Coach Jenkins.

Vice-Kerri Stephensen, Christy Jones, Coach Mike Ellis, Charmaine Wadley, Tamerla White

Women's Junior Varsity Basketball Team:

President- Michele Newton, Cheryl Waugh, Amanda Kane, cpt Nicole Bertot, Kristina Lewis, Mandee Rintala, Tami Katsu, Cheresa McClain, Tami Grice, Coach Natale Farell.

The women's varsity basketball team played very well this season despite missing key players periodically through the season. They took second in the Division III South Conference Championships held here in Berlin. Coach Ellis said that the team went up and down throughout the season and happened to peak near the end. Coach Ellis also praised the younger players, saying that they "have really come along". This will go to Hahn for the Division III Regional Championships.

This year's women's junior varsity basketball team was a young team, and despite the fact that they lost many players during the season, they still managed to have a winning year. Coached by Natale Farrel, this group of young women will definitely be an asset to the women's basketball teams next year.

Drawdown severely lessened the ranks of the wrestling team this year under the new coaching staff of Mr. Hardy, Mr. Wall, and Jim Carnes. With only twelve wrestlers at the beginning of the season, there were only six left who were able to go to Regionals in Giessen due to re-deployment, injuries, and academic reasons. However, of these six, four placed and will go on to Europeans in Heidelberg.

Wrestling Team:

Back- Erik Simper, Petrizio Cavaliere, Chris Slocum, Travis Stephensen, Brian Johnson.

Cheerleading Squad:

Cpt Joi Atkins, Amanda Diaz, Anna Smith, Erika Valdez, Joanna Palacios, Heidi Counsel.

This year's cheerleading squad had only one returning member, but this bunch of bears didn't let that stop them from fighting their way into second place at the Division III South Conference Championships, only one point behind their competition. Their win allows them to go on to Hahn for the Division III Regional Championships.

Berlin's rifle team, coached by Jack Wayne, pulled an unexpected upset over Giessen this year by overcoming a fifty-one point deficit during their last meet of the regular season at Frankfurt by shooting an astounding 1297, a new school record, outscoring Giessen by ninety-eight points. This upset won them the North-West Conference Championships, and they did this with only one returning shooter from last year. The rifle team travels next to Nuernberg for the Dodds Germany Championships.

Rifle Team Members:
 Front- Tamara Ramage, Yvonne Revill, Heather Halbritter.
 Back- Erik Johnson, Steve Childress, cpt Wesley McKeown.

Thank You
Mom and Daddy and my brothers for all the love and help that you gave to me.

Tiran Pettus

Remember always to think about both sides of a situation and never let your emotions go or keep them all to yourself.
Peace, don't let the world get the best of you. Keep your heart and soul and you'll make it far. I'm outta here.

LAST WILLS AND TESTAMENTS

I, Emily Hoyes, being of sound mind and body, bequeath the following:

1. To Orlando, my dirty laundry -have fun washing them in the basement (you know what I mean).
2. To Terrance, my high water pants, hope you don't have to shorten them.
3. To Mr. Schmoll, my old hairless dog left by a family that PCS'ed.

I, Charesa McClain, being of sound mind and body bequeath the following:

1. The hope of making it!

I, Donna Johnston, being of sound mind and body bequeath the following to All Persons.

1. To always be my "crazy" self and of course speak what is on my mind.
2. Always give you a hard time.
3. Last, but certainly not least, always treat underclassmen and those "ignorant" upper classmen like a small child! Even some grown folk!

I, Chris Maroney, being of sound mind and body bequeath the following to everyone at BAHS.

1. My funny personality.
2. My "great" basketball shot.
3. My smelly basketball socks.

I, Anthony Polczynski, being of sound mind and body bequeath the following to Eyal Horn:

1. To forget about all the money that he owes me!
2. Full responsibility of the memories on the ski trip during Thanksgiving '91.
3. And lastly, my dirty socks and shoes to hang up around his house!

I, Jarvis Roach, being only of dubious mind and body, bequeath the following:

1. That upon the reading of this will, the cafeteria, sorry, "student union", be most thoroughly devastated by a low-yield tactical nuke, which may or may not destroy the stuff they've been trying to pass off as food to me for the past five years.
2. And finally, I bequeath many, many more years of school to all those underclassmen out there.

Lacey Renee' Shiflett being of sound mind and body, bequeath the following to Jorge Ingles:

1. The desire to make it to graduation.
2. The encouragement to fulfill all of his dreams.
3. Most of all, my love for him.

I, Erik Simper, being of sound mind and body bequeath the following to the Senior Class:

1. Hope for the future.
2. Determination to make it through life.

I, Chris Slocum, being of sound mind and body bequeath the following to Diane Moore:

1. All the problems and work as a senior with a big plate of Mac and Cheese.
2. One big fluffy black pillow.
3. One pair of faded blue jeans and a red shirt, Nike style type.

I, Birkin Philander Weither, being of sound mind and body bequeath the following to BAHs:

1. FBLa-It's fun, it's educational, and it made my senior year the best.
2. No more sports trips to Augsburg, they're nothing but trouble.
3. All of the teachers here, trust me, they'll take good care of you.
4. Peace . . .
